Espoma Welcomes 5th Generation

"It's a tradition that began with my great-grandfather – and nearly 100 years later we're excited to welcome the fifth generation of our family into the business. Some of you may remember my daughter, Jordan Brunner, from past marketing campaigns. She has now officially joined the company and is starting to learn the business and industry. It's a proud moment for our family, and for the future of Espoma." – Jeremy Brunner
